- ❖ Flying termites in the house or emerging from the foundation of a wall indicates a termite infestation which needs immediate treatment. Other signs of infestation include mud tubes on walls, hollow sounding woodwork, damaged wood / wooden furniture and discarded termite wings. We also recommend regular monitoring of your property and surroundings to keep them unfavorable for termite infestation.

❖ Repeat pest Control offers both pre-construction and post-construction anti-termite treatment to ensure your home and property are protected from destructive termite attack.

❑ Post-construction termite treatment: Our specialized post-construction anti-termite treatment acts as a protection against damages caused by subterranean termites for existing homes and business premises. Repeat Pest Control carries out an expert inspection and cutting-edge termite detection technology that uses RADAR sensors for detection, which reduces the need for exploratory drilling at your premise.

❑ At Repeat Pest Control, we use only government approved termite treatment chemicals. This ensures a safe environment during and after termite treatment.

- ❑ The treatment comes with a 5 year warranty for isolated structure/building which means that Repeat Pest Control will carry out a re-treatment if re-infestation were to occur within the contract period. We also provide a basic clean up after completion of the service.
- ❑ Our post-construction termite treatment is done on an existing buildings to proactively and intensively protect the property against termite infestation. The treatment involves detection of termites using termatrac, drilling holes at skirting level on the walls and injecting liquid termiticide in them by trained technicians.

- ❑ The process involves the use of pneumatic spray nozzles to render a water-based termiticide at the site before it gets covered with concrete slabs. Our pre-construction Anti termite treatment comes with a 5 year warranty, giving you peace of mind against termite attacks.
- ❑ Pre-construction termite control, better known as Soil Treatment, is performed in the preliminary phase of construction of a property. The aim of pre-construction termite control treatment is to create an anti-termite barrier underneath the building structure to protect against damages caused by subterranean termites. As a part of this treatment, the areas under and around the concrete base are exposed to a specialized solution that creates a termite barrier in order to have a long-term effect.

- ❑ Termite treatment uses a DRILL-FILL-SEAL technique that creates a chemical barrier to kills termites during their movement.
